At Ramapo College, being involved outside the classroom is recognized as just as important as being active inside the classroom. Students are urged to take advantage of the many opportunities available, including clubs/organizations, intramurals, LGBTQIA empowerment, Student Government Association, performing arts, etc.

There are more than 150 clubs and organizations including cultural, academic, religious, recreational, entertainment, political, social and special interest groups. Joining can provide students with interesting friends and provide life long memories of their college years. If students browse through the list and find their interests
